

Is the FCC seriously considering allowing people to use cell phones onboard flights? Have you all gone seriously nuts? Is the assault on privacy through senseless babble and pointless noise here on the ground somehow not enough?